THE TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY SYSTEM IS MORE THAN A&M

Established in 1948, the Texas A&M University System has evolved into one of the largest systems of higher education in the nation, with an extensive network of 11 universities, eight state agencies and a System administration office. Each of the A&M System members has its own unique mission, history and goals. Together, they provide research, educational programs and community enhancement services that improve the lives of people in Texas and around the world.

With more than 26,000 faculty and staff positions, the A&M System has a physical presence in 250 of the state’s 254 counties and a programmatic presence in every county. This network allows members to educate over 153,000 students and make more than 22 million additional education contacts through service and outreach programs each year.

RELLIS ACADEMIC ALLIANCE EDUCATION PARTNER

Recognized throughout the Brazos Valley for their innovative programs, the Blinn College District serves as an on-site partner. This partnership provides access for students to earn associate degrees or complete lower-division coursework that may be needed for a bachelor’s degree, in one single location.

The Blinn College District offers academic transfer, workforce training, and continuing education classes for more than 19,000 students. Blinn ranks among the nation’s leaders at transferring students to top four-year universities and has received national recognition for affordable educational excellence.

The proximity to the RELLIS Academic Complex makes this unique collaborative relationship possible, combining a major university system and a community college at a single location.
